GLENDALÉ TO IMPLEMENT NEW BUSINESS LICENSE APPLICATION FEE EFFECTIVE MARCH 1

GLENDALÉ, Ariz. – This week the Glendale City Council approved a new $20 business license application fee that will go into effect March 1.

This new application fee has been established because several types of business licenses did not previously come with a fee. The business types include:

- Commercial-Rental of Real Property
- Residential-Rental of Personal Property
- Restaurants, Bars
- Contracting
- Retail
- Hotel/Motel
- Business Occupational and Professional Business

Examples of the Business Occupational and Professional

Businesses include: doctors, banks, attorneys, physical therapists, chiropractors and hair salons.

The new fees are comparable to other Valley cities. Research indicates that other cities' fees range from $12-$30 for the same application process.

New Business Application Fee

The new application fee will go into effect March 1, and will only affect new business license applications from that point forward. It is estimated that the city could generate approximately $60,000 in new revenue annually as a result of this new fee, which will go directly into the general fund.
